PUBLISHED WEEKLY IN CANAL POINT BY PAUL RARDIN

CIRCULATING THROUGHOUT THE VAST AGRICULTURAL AREA OF PALM BEACH COUNTY

Bridge Is Bought On Ramie Road

The Ruben Construction Company, West Palm Beach, Monday was awarded a contract for improvement of seven miles of Ramie Road in the Glades.

The company submitted a low bid of $88,924 for the job which had been estimated to cost more than $100,000. Ruben was the lowest of five bidders.

In another action, the commission instructed its engineering department to cooperate with the City of Pahokee and the State Road Dept., in completing a sanitary sewer project for the municipality. Commissioner Paul Rardin asked that all possible steps be taken to approve the sewer project so that the work can be done at the same time contractors are working on Rardin Ave., along which the sewer lines will be placed.

The board also agreed to buy a privately owned bridge in the Glades for $5,000, a span that will be improved to fit road improvement plans. The span is known as Senter Bridge.

Commissioner Rardin in another action, asked that the State Road Department give an opinion as to whether or not a new state law levying a charge for moving equipment over state roads applies to secondary roads.

The county commission learned that the new statute requires that it pay the road department a fee for moving equipment over primary roads.

Rardin said if the measure applies to secondary roads the commission might find itself paying for the use of roads which the commission built and paid for out of its own pocket.

Police Chief Has Two Opponents

Chief of Police Leon Guthrie has two opponents in his race for reelection in the annual election to be held on May 5. His opponents are: Stanley Mock and T. B. Perry. Mock is a dragline operator and Perry is a former member of the police department.

Mayor Duncan Padgett is shooting for his third term, and by Tuesday night he was all alone in the race. Mrs. Patricia Mackey, veteran city clerk, is sure of her fifth term without opposition.

Running for reelection to the City Council are Carmen Salvatore, Group 1, seeking a second term, and Joseph Thompson, Group 3, seeking a third term. Group 2 Councilman Lloyd Hundley decided not to run again, and Harry B. Elarbee field for his seat. There are no opponents.

Mrs. Mackey reported approximately 1,525 persons have registered so far for the May 5 city election. If a runoff is necessary, it will be held May 12. Deadline for registration is 5 p. m. April 24.

Mrs. John Gandy is being honored tonight with a stork shower at the home of Mrs. Charles Maxson. Hostesses are Mrs. Charles Brown and Mrs. Jake Williams. Mrs. Gandy will return to her home in Germany, April 30.

Mrs. Ida Serena Crosby, 77, a resident of Pahokee since 1922, died Friday. She was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church of Okeechobee. Survivors include one son, Lewis Crosby of Las Vegas, Nev., and one daughter, Mrs. Lois Allen of Atlanta, Ga. Two sisters, Mrs. Joanna Guthrie and Mrs. Eva Guthrie, both of Pahokee.

Services were held at the First Baptist church of Pahokee by Elder Van Lightsey. Pall bearers were Chester Batchelor, Joe Hatton, Sr., Roy Trammell, Edward Trammell, Wiley Tillis and Claude Padgett. Interment was Monday in Pearson, Ga.

Hard Surface For New Ramie Road

Contract was let Monday by Palm Beach County for the hard surfacing of recently built Ramie Road, according to County Commission Vice Chairman Paul Rardin under whose direction the new stretch of 7 1/2 miles of road was constructed. Ruben Construction Company of West Palm Beach was the successful low bidder at a price of $88,924.48 for the completed job.

Ramie Road extends from Conners Highway (WPB Road between Canal Point and 20-Mile Bend) southward to Airport Road which leads into Belle Glade via the Glades Sugar House.

Commissioner Rardin worked out a right-of-way plan a couple of years ago where most of the needed right-of-way was donated by landowners whose property borders the new constructed road. The new road opens up several thousand acres of vegetable and sugar cane land and provides a splendid county highway for passage of semi trucks hauling cane and other trucks loaded with green vegetables.

John L. Evans Road Named In Glades

A strip of road running on the north side of Bolles Canal in the Glades has a new name today.

The ten mile stretch from the Hendry County line east to U. S. 27 at Okeelanta will be known as the John L. Evans Road, named after a pioneer Glades resident, who was described as an outstanding grower and civic worker.

Adoption of the resolution officially naming the road was presented by Commissioner Paul Rardin, Canal Point.

Judgment Stands For $165,000.00

According to a story in the Wednesday edition of The Miami Herald the City of Pahokee failed to escape a $165,000.00 judgment in Circuit Court awarded to Leon Alexander, a youngster wounded by a policeman three years ago.

The story further says Circuit Judge Robert S. Hewitt decided he wouldn't retry a $500,000 lawsuit filed by Alexander against the city and L. H. Gordon, a former patrolman.

The city contended the $165,000 award, granted by a jury Feb. 19, was excessive. The size of the judgment, the city argued, showed the jury had been swayed by bias, passion and sympathy. On this and other grounds the city asked for a new trial.

Alexander was 13 on Aug. 6, 1961, when he encountered Gordon outside a Pahokee building. In his original complaint the boy claimed Gordon had unnecessarily fired a shotgun as the policeman was trying to arrest him.

Alexander said his spine was severed by buckshot and that the wound left him paralyzed below the waist.

Mrs. M. P. Stanley is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pegler, in Lumkin, Ga., this week.

Lantana Airport Up For Discussion

The Lantana Airport and its future was among the items discussed by the county commission this week.

One phase of the discussion concerned a letter received from the Federal Aviation Authority asking if the county commission had any plans for changing present operation of the field.

The FAA said a recent editorial in a Lake Worth newspaper pointed out that the field might be a nuisance to a hospital being built at Atlantis, a community adjacent to the port.

The commission said it had no plans for changing present operations at the Lantana base and that if this situation ever came about, the county would provide similar airport facilities in another area.

The commission took under advisement, a request from Florida Airmotive, Inc., that it be granted a 15 year lease for its operations at Lantana Airport. The firm said it needed the long term lease to secure financing for expansion of its operations.

In other actions the board voted to call for bids for construction of two bridges on Congress Ave., as soon as plans can be completed.

Authorized the purchase of an airport for use by the Mosquito Control Department.

Received a $1,900 payment from the Florida Board of Conservation as the states share of financing a new boat ramp at Phil Foster Park.

Approved the bond of W. J. Snow, as a member of the board of governors for the Southeast Hospital District.

Awarded bids for material needed to place a new county dredge in operation at Lake Ida at Delray Beach and authorized hiring of a dredge operator.

Diversification and expansion have been leading the big retail food stores deeper and deeper into other lines of business than foods.

Beauty aids, kitchen hardware and appliances, soft goods (towels, rugs, clothing etc.), drugs and cosmetics and even anti freeze, lubricating oil and other automotive supplies are just a few of the things in today's supermarket which you wouldn't have found in the "grocery store" your mother used to patronize.

O. K., says a spokesman for one of the big oil companies, but if the trend continues with more automotive items being added, the oil industry is going to start putting food departments into filling stations.

That's the opinion of Charles A. Foster, Jr., vice president of central division marketing for Shell Oil company, expressed at a recent meeting of sales executives in Cleveland.

According to Mr. Foster, the oil industry is eyeing the desirability of adding non-automotive merchandise and some trials with non-perishable foods already have been made "with varying degrees of success."

As reported by Fairchild News Service, Mr. Foster indicated widespread studies are being conducted. He noted one chain of stations in Florida has been offering a food staple item at bargain rates to attract customers.

Chet Huntley, who reports the New York half of the well-known Huntley-Brinkley TV newscasts, is lending his name to a new brand of beef.

According to Supermarket News, the claim is made that the beef being marketed under his label has a higher protein content and less fat than "ordinary beef."

Three food chains with some 100 stores in the Metropolitan New York area will be selling the Huntley brand. According to Huntley, a Stockton, New Jersey rancher, his "super-beef" cattle are fed to choice and prime grades on a mixture of natural grasses and corn.

Grass only, while producing high protein meat, results in a tough animal, he comments, whereas corn feeding produces tasty, tender meat but too little of it in proportion to waste fat.

On the subject of beef, which has been getting quite a play in the national news, I noted one report about a complaint in Congress that there have been no signs of lower prices in Washington retail markets during the period of sharply lower cattle quotations.

Nevertheless, I've noted more than one report in food trade publications of fine chain store co-operation in an effort to move burdensome beef supplies.

Latest to come to my attention was a Denver chain which ran a 3-million-pound beef sale late in March. In double-page newspaper ads featuring 73 beef items and seven home freezer specials, it was stated "Every beef item in this ad is reduced."

So, it is obviously not true that ALL the chains have neglected to give consumers a break on lower beef prices while cattle prices are down. But it does appear that co-operation of retailers is more readily forthcoming in areas closely associated with cattle industry.

The Denver sale was in response to a plea from the Colorado Cattle Feeders' Association for help in moving an oversupply of fed cattle.

Also trying to give some help in the beef situation is the U. S. Department of Agriculture which announced recently its initial purchase of choice grade frozen ground beef and boneless roasts for distribution to schools and other eligible institutions.

Accepted were bids from 8 packers on 28 carloads (21,000 pounds to the car) for a total of 588,000 pounds at a cost of approximately $326,000. Successful bids ranged from 51.92 cents to 56.48 cents per pound.

Twenty-three bids were offered for a total of 4,305,000 pounds with top bid at 78½ cents a pound.

States from which shipments will be made and number of carloads: California, 4; Colorado, 2; Iowa, 2; Kansas, 5; Minnesota, 4; Nebraska, 5; Oklahoma, 1; Texas, 2; Washington, 1; and Wisconsin, 2.

Mrs. Ray Singletary and granddaughter, Kim, left today for Tallahassee to pick up her daughter Connie who has completed her freshman year at F. S. U. They will go to Thomasville, Ga. where they will visit Mrs. Singletary's Mother, Mrs. C. W. Connolly who makes her home with Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Chastain.

Phosphate Industry Continues To Grow

LAKELAND—Florida's expanding phosphate industry continues to set a new wage and employment record.

The nine companies operating in the Polk-East Hillsborough county area had 6,374 employees on Jan. 1, largest number in history. Total earnings for 1963 were $36,500,000, the largest amount phosphate industry workers ever earned in a year.

The figures were released by the Florida Phosphate Council following a survey of the companies in the area.

The 1963 figures show that the industry payroll has doubled in 10 years while the average earnings per worker reached a new peak during the year of slightly more than $110 per week. This is $1,000 more per year than he was receiving five years ago.

"The 1963 earnings were almost a million dollars more than in 1962," the council said, "and over $10 million more than five years ago."

State Operating In The Black

TALLAHASSEE — Florida income has caught up with its spending for the first time since last summer and the state's general revenue fund is now operating in the black.

State Comptroller Ray Green reported that the $35 million borrowed for general revenue from idle trust funds has been repaid in full.

The state's tax revenues reach a peak each March as several big once-a-year taxes are collected then. But the cash balance melts away each summer as the state's expenses surpass the revenue. Then, state officials must transfer money from the trust funds to the general revenue fund to keep the cash balance at an operational level.

Terri Thomas, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thomas, entered St. Mary's hospital in West Palm Beach Wednesday for a tonsilectomy.

Mrs. Donna Mae Shield is the guest of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. McIlwain.

Extra Work Needs Cash For Helpers

The coming May 5th Primary Election was the basis for several actions taken by the County Commission Monday.

The board heard from Louis Morrell, representative of the registrar's office, who asked the board to approve charges for delivering election books to the county's voting precincts.

Morrell said in the past the work had been done in off-time hours by registrar office personnel who were paid at the rate of $3 per delivery. He suggested that the county commission furnish transportation for the deliveries and that personnel be paid regular overtime.

The commission finally agreed on the $3 per precinct charge, with instruction that it be paid when an expense sheet is furnished by the registrar's office.

In another action the board named election official to man the polls for the Primary.

The commission also received a check from the County School Board in the amount of $8,510 which represents half of the cost of holding last November's election.

MARTIN V. CAMPBELL PLEDGES A POSITIVE PROGRAM OF SOUND ECONOMIC IMPROVEMENTS

THE COST OF EDUCATION is the responsibility of all county residents and a means must be found to spread that responsibility so that ALL RESIDENTS bear a part of that load. If Campbell is elected, some method in addition to ad valorem taxes WILL BE FOUND for meeting the financial needs of our growing school system.

IMPORTANT FUNDS are being lost to Palm Beach County taxpayers by the inability or unwillingness of county officials to take advantage of federal and state funds that are available to our school system. You are paying and will continue to pay the taxes which help create these funds. Common sense dictates that we accept this return on our own tax money or it will be given to other counties.

CAMPBELL'S SOLE OBLIGATION will be to provide the very highest quality education possible to the children of Palm Beach County. He has not obligated himself to any special individuals or groups.

When you're relaxing at your favorite outdoor beauty spot with friends or family, and your thirst's whetted by fresh air and exercise—that's the ideal time for a cool, refreshing glass of beer. Barbara Wright Weds R. E. Mills

Miss Barbara Elaine Wright became the bride of Roland Edwin Mills in a double ring ceremony Friday night, April 17, in the First Methodist Church in Pahokee. Rev. John Briley performed the candle light ceremony before an altar banked with palms and baskets of white gladioli.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion L. Wright, 319 Parkview Court. The groom is the son of Mrs. Jessie Mills, 162 Annona Avenue.

Mrs. Diane Lance served as her sister's matron of honor. She wore a street length dress of American Beauty Rose satin featuring a scooped neckline, wide cummerbund and bell skirt. Her headpiece was a small circle of white satin and net.

The junior bridesmaids were Miss Linda Wright and Miss Donna Wright, sisters of the bride. They were attired in white satin dresses with American Beauty rose cummerbunds and headpieces of satin and net to match the cummerbunds.

The flower girl was Miss Gretchen Riley, cousin of the bride. Her dress was fashioned like that of the bridesmaids. Each bridesmaid carried a nosegay of white carnations. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin floor length gown with scooped neckline and featuring a lace cummerbund and lace chapel train. Her headpiece was a small circle of flowers and net. She carried a cascade of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Raymond Mills served as his brother's best man. Ushers were John Mills, Leon Mills and Harry Usher, nephews of the groom and Larry Wright, brother of the bride. Miss Alice Hurt provided nuptial music and accompanied Dr. R. L. Hutton. At the reception, held in the church social hall, Mrs. Marjorie Rawlee, cousin of the bride, was at the bride's book.

Serving at the bride's table were Mrs. Louise Stacy, Mrs. June Hasty and Miss Faye Dayton. After a honeymoon trip to north Florida and Alabama, the couple will be at home at 350 Cypress Avenue.

Mrs. Mills is a graduate of Pahokee High School and is employed at Royal's, Inc., in Belle Glade. Mr. Mills is also a graduate of Pahokee High School and holds a position with Associated Groceries of Miami.

Here Is What Transpired At Monday's Meeting Of The Palm Beach County Commission

A resolution asking that an ocean outfall plan to be worked out in the Lake Worth area to prevent the need of dumping sewer plant effluent into drainage canals was approved by the county commission Monday.

The resolution calls on the Lake Worth Drainage District, the City of Atlantis, City of Lake Worth, Palm Beach Junior College and the State Board of Health to cooperate in planning and developing an ocean outfall disposal system to serve all interests.

Commission Chairman Edward Bandlow presented the issue saying that present plans call for dumping effluent from an Atlantis hospital into Canal 14 which empties into Lake Osborne. Bandlow said he feared such a move would contaminate waters now used for recreational purposes.

"Smoke and air pollution in the area of the Port of Palm Beach received official attention of the County Commission this week.

Commissioner E. F. Van Kessel said the Palm Beach Shores Property Owners Association had asked the county board for help to rid the area of the pollution problem.

Van Kessel said the county health department had already surveyed the situation and was unable to proceed with its investigation because of a lack of funds. He suggested that application be made for Federal funds to continue the survey and find a way to eliminate the air pollution.

The commissioner pinpointed the source of the problem saying the air pollution was caused by smoke from the Florida Power and Light plant.

Commissioner George Warren, Delray Beach, said the only way to get rid of the smoke problem for all time would be for the power company to convert to gas.

The board decided to call on its health department to draft a tentative proposal for continuing the pollution survey and to present the commission with cost estimates for the work.

Certificate Of Birth Necessary

JACKSONVILLE — The State Board of Health today urged parents who have children starting to school this fall to obtain certified copies of the birth certificates immediately.

At the same time, Everett H. Williams, Jr., director of the board's Bureau of Vital Statistics, cautioned that hospital birth certificates are not accepted by schools. Official birth certifications are issued by the Bureau of Vital Statistics and some county health departments. Williams also advised against waiting too long to obtain a birth certificate. He said "Although we are processing about 500 birth certifications a day right now, we can give fast service. Later, during any last minute rush by parents, service will be slower. A child can miss an entire year of school unless birth certificate is obtained in time."

Application forms may be obtained from a county health department but a letter will be adequate if it contains all the essential information.

Application must include the full name of the child; the full name of the father; full maiden name of the mother; the day, month, year, city and county of birth; whether the child is male or female; and the child's race. The original birth certificate number should be included if possible.

If the child was born in another state, the certificate must be obtained from that state.

A full photocopy or a wallet-sized birth registration card encased in plastic may be obtained from the bureau. The type wanted should be specified. A fee of one dollar for each copy or card must accompany the application.

The board also suggested that before starting the first grade, the child have all the basic inoculations against whooping cough, polio, smallpox, diphtheria and tetanus (lockjaw).

Mrs. J. D. Latham presented the program entitled "Baptists Emerge Into Modern History". She was assisted by Mrs. Nellie Reuter, Mrs. C. B. Jones, Mrs. J. E. Williams and Mrs. M. C. Carter.

Mrs. Lawrence Stewart was a guest. There were 10 members present. The meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. M. F. George. The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. M. C. Carter with Mrs. J. E. Williams in charge of the program.

Put Orange Juice Machines In Every Service Station

ORLANDO — An orange juice vending machine in every service station, factory, office or "wherever people gather" was the goal set by the chairman of the board of The Coca-Cola Co.

Lee Talley's comments were made in a press conference held during an inspection tour of the Florida production facilities of The Coca-Cola Company's Minute Maid Division and the groves of Minute Maid Corporation, a subsidiary of the Atlanta-based parent company.

Talley stated the worldwide network of Coca-Cola Bottlers would probably be used to introduce orange juice and orange drinks dispensed by vending machines in all countries of the world.

"A new vending machine for citrus products has been undergoing tests in Baltimore and Columbus," Talley explained. "The machine is dispensing a seven-ounce cup of juice for a dime. Public acceptance has been excellent."

He stated such a program would not be launched, however, until all operational problems are eliminated from the vending machines and mass production started.

Commissioner Rardin On Call Glades-Wide At All Times

Because of charges tossed his way saying that he is a part-time county commissioner, Paul Rardin this week took time out from his duty of serving all the people in the western half of Palm Beach county to refute the charge and say that he is and always has been available Glades-wide at all times. "I am as near the public as their telephone," Mr. Rardin said when confronted with the, supercilious charge. "It is highly improbable that one man can be in three offices at one time—and I do have three offices available to the good folks in this section of Palm Beach county," the commissioner said.

Commissioner Rardin pointed out that never had he failed to heed the many needs of the citizens and taxpayers in the Glades area of Palm Beach county.

"Only a complete novice in county government could make such a charge and at election time these things are to be expected. It is no different this election year than any other election year," the commissioner concluded.
